For the love of fine dining

Join the world's oldest and largest fine dining organisation and enjoy a new world of friends and gastronomy

Do you enjoy fine foods and wines, eating out and making new friends? If so, why not join the UK arm of the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs?

The Chaîne des Rôtisseurs is an exclusive member-based society for those who share a love of fine foods and wines. It is the premier international gastronomic society in the world, and brings together like-minded individuals across the country and across the globe.

The Chaîne is often hailed as one of the UK's best kept secrets! It is unique in that it brings together professional and non-professional members worldwide to celebrate their profound passion for food, wine and fine dining. It currently has in excess of 25,000 members in some 80 countries, from the Antilles to the USA, so perhaps it is not such a secret after all!

The Society was founded in Paris in 1950, but has its roots in the professional trades guilds of thirteenth century France. The Bailliage de Grande Bretagne (the British branch of the organisation) was founded in 1959, and also enjoys a strong heritage.

The finest establishments in the land are professional members who aim to delight and please their customers, and these venues are where Chaîne events are enjoyed by its private members. Each Chaîne event is a one off – with chef given free range to be innovative and each course matched with a different wine.

You can choose from a sensational list of dinners and lunches hosted across the year and, for those who want to enjoy every moment, the Chaîne is able to secure special accommodation rates for its members alongside many of these events.

For the more adventurous, you can also enjoy an overseas schedule to take advantage of the Chaîne's network on an international basis. Your Chaîne membership is worldwide, giving you access to events in all 80 countries. Use Chaîne contacts when planning your holidays.

Some examples of the destinations that our members will enjoy during the year are Chewton Glen, the Lanesborough, the Houses of Parliament, the Vineyard at Stockcross, the Four Seasons, the Corinthia, Swinton Park and the Manior aux Quat'Saisons.

In addition, through our two annual competitions for Young Chefs and Young Sommeliers, we look to nurture the training, high standards and profile of the next generation of professionals. These competitions take place on a national and international level each year.

Joining couldn't be easier and we do hope you would like to become a member. We look forward to welcoming you to the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs and joining a delightful group of members who have much in common.

Why become a member?

As a member of the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs you will:

- Become part of a prestigious, truly international community of like-minded people with a deep and abiding passion for fine food and wine
- Have the opportunity to participate throughout the year in events across the UK and overseas, and always be assured of a warm welcome
- Be encouraged to join local Bailliage events which may be cultural as well as culinary, such as excursions and private guided tours
- Enjoy direct contact with wine and restaurant professionals
- Have a free subscription to the Chaîne GB newsletter and Chaîne International Review
- Be able to access the Chaîne's powerful social network
- Be able to raise the profile of your establishment as a Professional member and provide motivation for young staff to engage in our competitions

Who can join?

Anyone with a love of things gastronomic! You can join as a single member, or as a couple.

There are just two classes of membership:

- Professional Member: someone who owns or works in the hospitality industry in a hotel or restaurant, such as a Hotel Owner, Hotel Director, General Manager, Chef or Sommelier
- Non-Professional Member: an amateur member who does not own or work in a hotel or restaurant. All other professions and business sectors fall into this member category
